

21. Il-bajjad

Il-bajjad spira; Mulej qabbdu jbajjadlek il-ġenna tiegħek bil-bjuda ta' dik qalbu; agħtih barmil u pinzell

21. The whitewasher

The whitewasher died; Lord, engage him to whitewash your abode with the whiteness of his heart, supply him with a pail and a brush.

22. Imsallab

Ninsab imsallab f'salib bejn żewġ ħalliela, it-tnejn bla ħnienas:
tal-imghoddxi t-tifkira, u l-biza' tal-gejjjeni.

22. Fixed to the cross

*I am fixed to a cross between two robbers, both of them ruthless:
the memory of the past and the fear of the future.*

23. Il-folla tal-Hadd

Tal-Hadd ja folla timxi ġo Strada Rjali, tghammes, tinnamra, inhobbok kif inħobbha l-art sbejħha ta' pajiżi.

23. The Sunday crowd

Sunday crowd walking up and down Kingsway winking and flirting: I love you just as I love my beautiful land.

24. Lilek

Fis-skiet ħabbejtek sa fejn l-imħabba tista' fil-qalb tal-bniedem; jekk jifθu 'l qalbi jsibu ismek minqux ġo fiha.

24. To you

*I loved you in secrecy as far as love can love in man's heart.
If they open my heart they will find your name engraved on it.*

25. Il-qalb it-twajba

Il-qalb it-twajba
fjuri tagħmel bħal xitla, fjuri ta' mħabba;
u kull min jersaq lejha taqtagħlu u tagħtiex fjura.

25. The good heart

*The good heart
grows flowers like a plant, flowers of love;
to whomever goes near it it picks a flower and gives it to him.*

26. Xalata

26. An outing

Jien ḥriġt xalata, ir-riħ hareġ xalata;
ir-riħ lil xagħri ha gost iħabbel, u jiena hadt gost iħabbilhuli.

*I went for an outing;
the wind too went for an outing; the wind enjoyed itself ruffling my hair; and I was delighted whilst he ruffled it.*

27. Il-bugonvilla

Driegħek tawwali meddejt b'mazz fjuri f'idejk, ja bugonvilla;
nixtieq kont taf titkellem ħalli neħodlok b'idek.

27. The Bugonvillea

You stretched your long arm with a bunch of flowers in your hand, o bugonvillea, I wish you could speak so that I could shake hands with you.

28. Ģewwa tebuti

Ġewwa tebuti poġġi ta' ħajti l-kalċi jiddi fuq sidri, minnu bl-istess qlabija jien xrob t-l-imrar u l-ħlewwa.

28. In my coffin

When I am in my coffin put the chalice of life shining on my breast; from it with equal courage I drank the bitter and the sweet.

29. Il-għanja tiegħi

Farfett imlewwen f'bieb tal-azzar iħabbat
il-għanja tiegħi, biex ta' l-azzar imsakkar ta' qalb il-bnedmin kiefra.

29. My song

My song has been a multicoloured butterfly knocking on a steel door, the locked steel door of the heart of cruel men.

30. Grazzi Mulej

Ja Mulej, grazzi li tajtni qalb biex biha inħobbok jiena; grazzi li tajtni l-leħen sabiex jien bih infahħrek.

30. Thank you, o Lord

*Thank you, o Lord for giving me a heart to love with;
thank you for giving me a voice to praise you with.*

31. Il-vjola

31. The violet

Ja vjola ġelwa, inħobbu mhux biss lilek, iżda anki 'l ismek;
għalik semmejna wliedna u wieħed mill-kuluri.

*O sweet violet, we love not only you,
but also your name;
after you we call our children and one of the colours.*

32. Taqbiliet kiefra

Naħseb, Natura
li bħali int thobb tikteb taqbiliet kiefra:
fin-nar iż-żargon titfa', tarah jaqbad u jixher.

32. Cruel rhymes

*I guess, o Nature, that like me you cherish writing
cruel rhymes:
you put the twigs in the fire, and look at them whilst burning and groaning.*

33. Casanova

Dan qatel nisa kemm ried; mhux bis-sikkina iżda b'ġibdieu;
qalbu maqbar fejn difen mara gewwa kull qabar.

33. Casanova

This man killed as many women as he liked, not with a knife but with attractiveness: his heart is a graveyard where he buried a woman in every grave.

34. Il-ġħoljet t'Għawdex

Bi skiet dejjiemi ġħoljet ġelwin ta' Għawdex lili kellemtu: fuq ġmiel, xogħol u tjubija taħt sema dawl jew beraq.

34. The hills of Gozo

With your eternal silence, sweet hills of Gozo you spoke to me of beauty, labour and goodness under a sky full of light or lightnings.

35. Ejja ja Muža

Ejja, ja Muža,
lil din qalbi għajjiena bennen bil-ħlewwa, bħall-wiżżeha bajda hienja fil-mewġ tal-ġhanja tiegħek!

35. Come, o Muse

Come o Muse, and this my tired heart rock gently, as a white and happy swan in the waves of your song.

36. Lit-tfal

36. To children

Tfal li tilaghbu mal-friefet gol-ghelieqi, toqlux il-friefet;
kerha bla tfal id-dinja, u kerha mingħajr friefet!

*O children who play with butterflies in the fields, don't kill the butterflies!
The world is ugly without children, likewise it is ugly without butterflies.*

37. Il-firma

Il-ħolqien tiegħek kapulavur, Mulejja;
sew bħall-pittur ismek hażżejt, mhux taħtu, iżda fil-qalb tal-bniedem.

37. The signature

A masterpiece, O Lord, is your universe; like a painter you signed your name, not in it, but in the heart of man.

38. It-tbissima

Bħalek, Mulejja, jen ma nistax inħammar il-wiċċ tas-sema;
'mma nista' bi tbissima il-wiċċ tal-fqir inferraħ.

38. The smile

*I cannot, O Lord, like you redden
the face of the sky;
but at least with a smile I can enlighten the face of a man.*

39. Il-bewsa

Ja wied tal-ilma mill-bogħod int ġejt nadif biex nixrob minnek; malli lejk resaq fommi int bistni bewsa ħelwa.

39. The kiss

O brook from afar you came clean and pure so that I may drink of you; when my mouth came close to you you gave me a sweet kiss.

40. Il-wardiet ħomor

Il-wardiet ħomor
tal-peprin f'nofs iż-żara inħasdu miegħu, u saru wardiet ħomor f'wiċċ dawk illi l-ħobż jieklu.

40. The red flowers

The red poppies in the midst of the corn were mown together with it, and became two red roses on the face of those who ate the bread.
